Let two meals shape the route

Shreveport: Orlandeaux's Cafe

The operator describes Creole, soul-food and Southern cooking, including gumbo, stuffed shrimp and po'boys. Use the current menu and location information to decide whether it fits your party; confirm ingredients and any dietary questions directly.

Bossier City: BeauxJax Crafthouse

BeauxJax describes a Cajun-focused restaurant in the East Bank area. Its Crafthouse contact address is 501 Barksdale Blvd, distinct from its catering address. Confirm you are navigating to the dining location, and check the current service and event schedule.

A flexible tasting plan

Choose one main meal and leave space for a snack or dessert you discover locally. Keep the second day open enough to follow a useful recommendation without losing a prepaid booking. The regional Food Passport has additional tasting-note space.

Choose one experience per half-day

OPTION	WHAT TO CHECK
Shreveport Aquarium	Use the aquarium's own ticket and calendar pages for current entry times, availability, access needs and special-event details.
R.W. Norton Art Gallery and gardens	The operator currently lists Wednesday-Sunday garden access and closes the gardens Monday and Tuesday. It prohibits photography and videography on the grounds and in the museum, except for its stated educational exception. Recheck the policy before visiting.
Red River National Wildlife Refuge	The headquarters is in Bossier City. Check the exact refuge unit, permitted activity, trail access and current notices; not every unit has the same visitor facilities.

Late October / November 2026 planning note

The State Fair of Louisiana publishes a 2026 run of October 29-November 15 in Shreveport, with Monday and Tuesday closures. Confirm your exact date, admissions, parking and schedule on the official site. Replace an existing half-day with the fair rather than adding it to an already full itinerary.

The event note is specific to 2026. Other activity ideas are starting points; openings and conditions still need a fresh check.

One hotel to research

The Remington Suite Hotel & Spa is an accommodation option in downtown Shreveport at 220 Travis Street. Use its own booking and room information to check the exact room, amenities, access and all mandatory charges for your dates. This guide does not claim an overnight stay or hotel inspection.
